Dear Messrs. Cryan, Fitschen, Achleitner:

Unfortunately, numerous efforts by us and others to amicably resolve the Suzanne McCormick vs. Deutsche Bank/Bankers Trust Company Case have been unsuccessful. Because of the bank's and its lawyers unconscionable behavior and lack of accountability, Ms. McCormick's financial well-being, health and career have suffered immeasurably. I have no doubt that she is just one of many who could make a strong case of being fleeced by Deutsche Bank's estate and trust departments' so-called "Wealth Management."

As was explained in my past correspondence, we have no other choice but to move forward with our Campaign to Stop Estate Fraud. Beginning this month, we will be reaching out to the public, political leaders, the U.S. Department of Labor, tens of thousands of public and private sector labor union leaders, Deutsche Bank employees and the international media.

We will begin by distributing the website www.StopEstateFraud.org. The information, messages and images we are conveying to various constituencies – including the U.S. Department of Labor – regarding Deutsche Bank should be very clear to you.

As our campaign moves forward to obtain some measure of justice for Ms. McCormick, I expect many others will step forward with similar allegations of being defrauded by Deutsche Bank with the complicity of its Wall Street lawyers.

Sincerely,
